Animation Proposal

I want to do a rotoscope for a video of my friend and I dancing to some funk. I want to make it colorful and fun to watch. It is going to be line drawing. I also want to play with the background, yet I don't know if I will have time to focus on that.

Materials

I will be using Photoshop, a tablet, and the original video of my friend and I dancing. This project will require for my to plan out a timeline to work on it. According to my calculations, one hour I can complete around 20 frames per second. For the next three weeks I would have to dedicate at least one hour to Rotoscoping everyday.
